

The Entertainment Remote

The remote everyone loves just got better. The new Control4 remote is the perfect hand-held interface for your entire home, and is now even more intuitive, more customizable, and remarkably faster.

The perfect remote in your hand

Pause or rewind the game without taking your eyes off the screen with buttons arranged to give you a more intuitive, one-handed experience. New custom buttons along the top of the remote can be programmed to any event or activity throughout the home.

Designed for homes throughout the world

People around the world have loved the Control4 remote, and the new SR-260 makes it even easier for homeowners to use the remote in their own language. The built-in screen gives you the interface for your whole-home automation, and is available in many languages, including French, Czech, Chinese, German and more.
